

Doyle's Dialogue

Theme: South America

Date: January 4th - 8th

The K2 Preview

This week, we are headed south to South America. We look forward to exploring major landmarks like Machu Pichu, Rio de Janeiro, and the Amazon Rainforest. We can't wait to indulge in South America's major exports, bananas and cacao beans. South America is home to some very exotic animals, our explorers will be wary of Boa Constrictors and Piranhas. Lastly, we will partake in cultural traditions like soccer and Latin dances.

Language Arts: site words: into, must, with, they; word family: -all (ball, fall, etc); descriptive writing, capital letters

Math: write numerals to 65, simple word problems, adding dimes and pennies, following ordinal directions, number words, halves, telling time

Social Studies: South American land features, landmarks, cultural traditions, and animals

Practice at Home

All homework is due on Friday.

For language, your child will complete an activity on Brazil, a country in South America. They will trace and write the word Brazil. Then, they will complete a word search using words that describe this South American country. The second activity requires your child to find the words that mean the same and opposite of the given word.

In math, your child will create a path by coloring the numbers counting by fives. The second activity requires your child to count by 1, 5, and 10 to find how much money the children have.

In addition to these pages, please have your child read his/her individual baggie book each night. Also, make a set of site words for your child and review them nightly. Our site words this week are : into, must, with, they, and -all words (ball, fall, etc.).
